

1

There can be as many players as possible in a round.

2

Players receive cards with a 5x5 grid, typically with numbers in the columns marked B, I, N, G, O.

3

Players should make their own bingo cards.

4

A caller randomly selects and announces numbers. Players mark the numbers on their card as they are called out.

5

The bingo caller will decide the winning pattern in a round. It could be five in a row, four in a row, or any
